PARTNER WITH ISPCAN

International Society for the Prevention of Child Abuse & Neglect

ISPCAN empowers professionals to lead in the global effort to prevent child abuse and neglect with access to the latest information, best practices, and a multidisciplinary worldwide network.
THE REALITY OF CHILD ABUSE
CHILDREN ARE ROBBED OF THE CHANCE TO BECOME PRODUCTIVE, HAPPY CITIZENS

Each ISPCAN health provider treats or counsels over 1,000 children per year or about 30,000 traumatized and neglected children during their career.

With the right treatment, kids can reach their full potential.

Over 1 billion children suffer some form of violence each year.

Nearly 3 in 4 children aged 2-4 years regularly suffer physical punishment and/or psychological violence.

Since 1977, ISPCAN has been instrumental in advocating for child abuse to be recognized as a community responsibility, and key in the development of the United Nations Committee on the Rights of the Child. Hard-working frontline professionals in every part of the world need our support to continue advancing the field of child protection through research and best practices.

120 Million young women under the age of 20 have suffered some form of forced sexual contact.
Through ISPCAN programs, trained professionals get the tools, education, and collegial support they need to work in a highly traumatic field.

Planned major projects:

- ISPCAN’s Country partners bring support and information to developing country regions with culturally appropriate and language specific tools and training. New train the trainer programs on 2 topics can be developed for $25,000.

- Seventy nine percent (79%) of ISPCAN members are from high-income countries and 21% are from low/middle-income countries. Develop intensive outreach to achieve our target goal of having 50% from LMIC for $50,000.

- IT support to develop a unique networking app or podcast series to increase prevention tools and resources for front line workers on cutting edge topics. $75,000.

- Core funding for supporting basic operations, nonprofit administration for our 3 international congresses per year and provide 30 scholarships to developing country delegates. $100,000.

- Work with us to define a unique project that supports our joint interests.

Let’s talk.

We can work together to ensure that our frontline heroes succeed. ISPCAN is the only international organization in child protection that brings together professionals across disciplines who rely on the best information, tools, and networks to serve children better.

Our members often work in isolation, in traumatic and resource-poor environments, and have high levels of burn-out. ISPCAN provides communities of learning, sustaining networks, and best practices to members ranging from rural community health workers in Africa to doctors in Japan, to social workers in Serbia to teachers in Oman.

Partner with us to make a major impact on the lives of real-life heroes saving children from abuse and neglect. Thank You!
